

The ArtCubes in Venus Bay

The ArtCubes have made their way to Venus Bay after a successful stint in Foster. Located at 143 Jupiter Boulevard, the Cubes promise to bring excitement and creativity to the coast this summer.

From Friday 24 January to Sunday 16 February, three artists are exhibiting their passion projects from within the Cubes.

- Sonia Zalucki from the Venus Bay Community Centre Op Shop is showing her artistic creativity through a range of sustainable techniques and practices. From clothing design and knitting to ceramics and lino printing, Sonia is ready to show off her talent in all its many shapes and forms.
- Terrie Thompson will be in Cube 2 showcasing The Denim Project. A community minded project, upcycling endeavour, sewing whales from 'waste' denim. During his residency, Terrie will explore the connection between what we wear and the impact it has on our oceans.
- Amanda Diamond is bringing Magpie Studio to ArtCubes 3. Inspired by nature, particularly birds, Amanda paints, draws and sculpts the airborne creatures in lively expression of colour and pattern.

A lineup of other artists exhibiting in the ArtCubes is to be announced. Workshops and opportunities for the community to get involved are also available.

Quote attributable to South Gippsland Shire Council Mayor, John Schelling:

"The ArtCubes are a great artistic initiative that add vibrancy to the towns they visit. They ignite creativity and spark imagination which adds depth to the culture of our community.

"I would like to thank the Foster Community, especially Manna Gum Community House for planning and orchestrating such a successful stay for the Cubes while they were in Foster.

“As always, I look forward to seeing how the ArtCubes are activated in Venus Bay and all the other towns to come.”
